Public Sector Equality Duty

The Equality Act 2010 replaced all previous discrimination law. It has simplified the law and extends protection from discrimination in some areas.

School must adhere to the following:

- Protection against discrimination is extended to pupils who are pregnant or who have recently given birth, and pupils who are undergoing gender reassignment.
- It is now unlawful for employers to ask health related questions of applicants before job offer, unless the questions are specifically related to an intrinsic function of the work.
- New positive action provisions will allow schools to target disadvantage experienced by pupils with particular protected characteristics.
- It is now unlawful to victimise a pupil for anything done in relation to the Act by a sibling or parent.
- The Act will extend the reasonable adjustments duty to require schools to provide auxiliary aids and services to disabled pupils.
- The previous specific duties on schools have been combined into the new Public Sector Equality Duties (PSED)
- There is a requirement to have an Access Plan to improve access for disabled pupils

Protected characteristics:

It is unlawful for a school to discriminate by treating individuals less favourably because of their:

- Sex
- Race
- Disability
- Religion or belief
- Sexual orientation
- Gender reassignment
- Pregnancy/maternity
- Marriage and Civil Partnership

Children and young people under the age of 18 have limited protection under the Age characteristic. It is lawful to treat people differently because of their age in circumstances where the law allows, or requires, people to be treated differently because of their age.

School Content

Darlington is located at the southern tip of the North East of England region. The Borough is regarded as the 'gateway' to the Tees Valley and the wider North East region of England, lying adjacent to the Yorkshire and Humber region, with which it shares a boundary, formed by the River Tees.

Darlington is a historic market town, surrounded by open countryside. The town's development has been closely associated with the railway age and associated manufacturing. Darlington's population is expected to rise steadily to 110,771 by 2021 from its current 105,000. There are currently 15,478 children in primary and secondary schools (Spring 2014 census) and this number is projected to rise until at least 2020. Darlington saw the 4th fastest growth rate in the child population in the whole of the North of England between 2010 and 2011.

About three quarters of the working population of the Borough have jobs based in Darlington. There has been a significant change in the structure of the Darlington economy. Employment in manufacturing has declined dramatically (to 9.2%), but in contrast, the service sector has grown strongly and now accounts for almost 80% of jobs in Darlington. The public sector, including local government, national government and health, is a major employer. The November 2013 NEET rate in Darlington is 6.8%, a decrease from March 2013. Of the 1,105 18-24 year olds claiming Job Seekers Allowance, 195 of them have been claiming for over 12 months.

There are marked contrasts in the life chances and quality of life of people in the Borough, according to where they live. According to the Index of Deprivation 2010, Darlington has some of the most deprived areas of England, and is ranked 75th most deprived local authority out of 326 in England. 31% of the population live in seven wards that are amongst the 10% most deprived in the country, whilst about 7% live in two wards that are amongst the least deprived nationally. There is a 13-year difference in life expectancy between the best and worst wards, and unemployment varies from 12.2% for the inner Central ward (March 2010), to 1.7% in the suburban Hummersknott ward.

Holy Family Profile

Holy Family is a 4-11 Faith school that receives students with a wide range of physical, educational, emotional and spiritual needs. Holy family is an average sized primary school, with a slightly lower proportion of girls than found nationally. The proportion of pupils known to be eligible for free school meals is very small. The proportion of disabled pupils and those who have special educational needs are well below average. Most pupils are of White British heritage. A small percentage is from minority ethnic groups. The school has been awarded Healthy School Status and renewed the Primary Quality Mark. The school meets the current government floor standards
