Home Learning

Dear Parents

As we are getting further into the year, we are striving to improve the children's basic number skills and rapid recall. To support this, we will be sending home a weekly mental maths 'Beat That' challenge for the children to practise as part of their home learning.

The children will be given a first attempt at the challenge on a Monday after which a blank copy will be sent home for the children to practise. They will then get the chance to improve the score on the Friday when they attempt the challenge again.

We suggest that the children work through the questions independently and then go through their answers with an adult. The speed in which the children carry out the calculations is important as we aim to improve the arithmetic skills across the school.

Later in the term, the children will get the chance to showcase their improved arithmetic skills in an activity on National Number day.

Thank you for your continued support. Please ask your child's Class Teacher if you would like more information.

Yours sincerely

Mr M Shield
Maths Subject Leader
